DISCLAIMER

IMPORTANT RISK CONSIDERATIONS

Material risks involved with respect to investment strategies offered by Eastspring Investments, including and not limited to that investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. General risks that the client may indirectly face, though non-exhaustive, are:

Market Risk: The investments of the client's portfolio are subject to normal market fluctuations and common market-risk factors are interest rates, foreign exchange and equity prices.

Liquidity Risk: The risk due to a lack of adequate liquidity in the portfolio or the market to close out positions quickly enough and in sufficient quantities at a reasonable price.

Credit Risk: The pre-settlement and settlement risk on the counterparties with which it trades particularly in relation to fixed income securities, foreign exchanges, options and other financial derivative instruments that are traded over-the-counter.

Legal Risk: The risk of loss to an institution, which is primarily caused by a claim or a change in law.

Regulatory Risk: The risk of having regulatory changes or obligations applied retrospectively or prospectively that might adversely impact the economic value of an enterprise.

Credit and Interest: Debt securities are subject to various risks, the most prominent of which are credit and interest rate risk. The issuer of a debt security may fail to make interest and/or principal payments. Values of debt securities may rise or fall in response to changes in interest rates, and this risk may be enhanced with longer-term maturities.

Foreign and Emerging Markets: Investing internationally, especially in emerging markets, involves additional risks such as currency, political, accounting, economic, and market risk.

High Yield-High Risk Fixed Income Securities: There is a greater level of credit risk and price volatility involved with high yield securities than investment grade securities.

Equity Securities: The market price of equity securities may be affected by financial market, industry, or issuer-specific events. Focus on a particular style or on small or medium-sized companies may enhance that risk.
